

ENETS 2021 Virtual -
18th Annual ENETS Conference
for the Diagnosis and Treatment of Neuroendocrine Tumor Disease
25 - 27 February 2021
ABSTRACT SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

Key Dates:

Abstract Submission begins: 1 October 2020

Abstract Submission ends: 16 November 2020 (23:59:00hr CET)

Abstract Notifications: To be sent to the presenting author by end of January 2021

Abstracts must be submitted online using the official online abstract application tool. The ENETS office will not accept any submissions via e-mail or mail.

1. Call for Abstracts

Summaries of new, ongoing, and updated research in the area of neuroendocrine tumors are acceptable for submission and presentation. Categories include basic science, clinical research, case reports and trials-in-progress/trials-in-concept.

Basic science and clinical abstracts are eligible for all types of presentations (poster and/or oral) at the ENETS 2021 Virtual Conference as well as online publication on the ENETS website.

Case abstracts and trials-in-progress/trials-in-concept: The Abstract Reviewing Committee welcomes case reports or case series, which reflect genuine novelty or innovation in clinical practice, as well as trials-in-progress/trials-in-concept. Case reports and trials-in-progress/trials-in-concept will be suitable for presentation in our poster carousel online during the conference and on the ENETS website, but they will not be eligible for any prizes.

Encore abstracts: ENETS accepts abstracts that have already been presented before provided that there have been updates or new results in the interim.

2. Submission Categories

Authors must select one topic category that best fits the subject of their abstract.

3. CASE REPORTS

4. TRIALS-IN-PROGRESS / TRIALS-IN-CONCEPT

3. Submission Policies and Criteria

First Author Disclosure:

Author disclosure must be declared at the time of the abstract submission.

If the first author is employed by a pharmaceutical company, as defined by the UEMS-EACCME¹, and if the abstract is selected for presentation in an oral abstract session, an alternate presenter, who does not have a relevant employment relationship, must be named as a presenter.

The first, last, and corresponding authors are required to answer additional questions specific to their abstract.

Abstract Withdrawal Deadline:

If a first author chooses to withdraw his or her abstract for any reason, a request must be submitted to info@enets.org by Friday, 22 January 2021. Any abstract withdrawal request received after this date will be considered on a case-by-case basis.

Confidentiality Policy:

Submitted abstracts are considered both confidential and embargoed during the time of submission until they are publicly released by ENETS.

4. Responsibilities of the First Author

- When the abstract is submitted, the first author must confirm that they have obtained the consent of all other authors or has obtained the necessary institutional clearances.
- Verify that all co-authors are aware of the contents of the abstract and support its data.
- Agree, on behalf of all authors, to transfer copyright to ENETS.
- Agree to present the abstract if it is selected for oral presentation at the virtual conference.
- Agree that the same contact information and e-mail address will be used for each abstract (if submitting more than one abstract).
- Identify the corresponding author. If you would like someone other than the first author to be contacted with any questions from the Abstract Reviewing Committee, please designate a corresponding author within the abstract submitters. All other correspondence will be directed to the first author.

5. Important Instructions for Abstract Submission

Please read the following instructions carefully before clicking on the links to begin an abstract submission. Abstracts that do not comply with these instructions will not be reviewed.

- All submissions must be made electronically. Hard copies will not be accepted.
- Complete and submit all required fields in the online form.
- Presenting author: The name, institution, telephone number, and e-mail address of the first author are required. The presenting author will receive all future correspondence from ENETS.
- Co-author(s): The name, institution, and e-mail address of each co-author. Academic degrees of co-authors are not needed (limited to max. 12 co-authors per abstract).
- Author disclosure must be declared at the time of the abstract submission.
- Abstract submissions will not be accepted after the deadline.

6. Abstract Format and Content

- All mandatory fields must be filled out.
- No tables (spreadsheets) will be accepted.
- Abstracts must not exceed 1,750 characters (including spaces). The system will inform you if you exceed the word limit.
- Describe the objectives and results of the research in the abstract so that the Abstract Reviewing Committee can evaluate the quality and completeness of the project.
- Please proofread for English and content errors.

- Structure the abstract in five sections with the following headers:
Introduction/Background, Aims, Material and Methods, Results, and Conclusions.
- Individuals may be the first author of more than one abstract.
- List no more than 12 individual authors for each abstract.

7. Presentation Types

- Oral abstract or presidential presentations will range from 2 to 10 minutes in length for abstracts integrated in general sessions or placed in dedicated oral abstract sessions. Presenting authors should use slides to accompany their presentation. Any abstracts in the presidential sessions will be invited at the discretion of the Abstract Reviewing Committee. However, if an oral presentation is accepted, authors will not be eligible for poster prizes.

8. Correspondence

- Each first author/presenting author will receive an e-mail acknowledging receipt of the abstract after initiating a submission and after completing a submission. The first author/presenting author will receive a letter of notification from the Abstract Reviewing Committee regarding its decision by end of January 2021.
- Once submitted, an abstract remains pending and has not been accepted until the author has received approval by the ENETS Abstract and Poster Reviewing Committee in written form.
- All approved abstracts will be made available online on the ENETS website.

9. Abstract Writing Guidelines

- Abstract title: Use capital and lowercase letters. Example: Role of interleukins in hypothalamic.
- Authors names: First initial(s) precedes last name. Example: J.H. Smith, K. Gates.
- Institute: Name, location, country (no postal codes). Example: Department of Psychology, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, N.C., USA; Department of Chemistry, UCLA, Los Angeles, Ca., USA.
- Abstract text: Abstract should not exceed 1,750 characters incl. spaces. The online submission system does not allow any text exceeding this limit.
- Footnotes: Footnotes and references should be avoided. If applicable, 'Supported by ...' text should be at the end of the abstract on a new line.
- Use of keywords in abstract text: Use lowercase letters in all cases, words to be separated by a comma. Example: neuroendocrine, cell, research.

10. Industry-supported Abstracts

- All authors submitting an abstract will be asked during the online submission if their abstract is industry sponsored (CHECKBOX Yes/No)
- Industry-supported abstracts will still be eligible for submission but no promotional or advertising material or company logos should be identifiable on the poster or presentations.
- The author of an industry-sponsored abstract shall take note that the sponsoring ‘company name’ as well as sponsor logos will be omitted and replaced with ‘industry-sponsored’. This applies to publication(s), both online and in the abstract booklet, as well as posters/e-posters that are presented during the conference and uploaded into the poster gallery after the conference. ENETS is required to do this in order to comply with UEMS-EACCME regulations and not jeopardise CME accreditation.
- If the first author/presenting author is employed by a pharmaceutical company, as defined by the UEMS-EACCME², and if the abstract is selected for presentation in an oral abstract session, an alternate presenter, who does not have a relevant employment relationship, must be named as presenter.
